

Red Ribbon Christmas Celebration approaching

Hancock County is gearing up for its third annual Red Ribbon Christmas Celebration during the month of December.

Over 100 area businesses will be participating in this year's event. The shop-at-home campaign is intended to familiarize citizens with the businesses located in Hancock County and the products and services they have to offer.

"Hopefully this will result in people finding what they need locally rather than go outside the area to buy it," said Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Director Cindy Vernon.

The Red Ribbon Christmas Celebration campaign revolves around a special insert in the Thanksgiving Day edition of The Sea Coast Echo.

This insert will feature ads of the participating businesses as well as a calendar of events for the various holiday activities occurring throughout the area during the month of December.

Also included will be articles about the activities, holiday recipes, craft ideas, and many other interesting tidbits.

Participating businesses will display a red ribbon on the outside of their buildings. In addition to the insert, this year's campaign also includes six billboards scattered throughout the Gulf Coast area to advertise the Red Ribbon Christmas Celebration Coastwide.

This coupled with public service announcements on area television and radio stations and various publications will hopefully help local businesses have a profitable holiday season.

According to Vernon, the campaign originated in 1990 as a joint effort between the Chamber and the College of Bay, Long and Wayland and the community of Diamondhead.

This initial effort included 36 merchants and an 8-page insert. In 1991 it grew to 108 mer-

HNCE parents protest alleged gas leak problem

BY T.H. (DOC) TOUPS

Approximately a dozen adults and children endured Wednesday morning's overcast skies and cold drizzle to protest a perceived safety hazard at Hancock North Central Elementary School.

The parents claimed that during football practice at the school the previous evening, they smelled leaking propane gas. Parent Barbara Seal said that when they smelled gas, they took their children away from practice and decided to hold the protest this morning.

Two weeks ago children were evacuated while a leak was stopped. It did not occur because of a fault in the propane system, or because of a failure of safety systems, said Blossman Gas spokesman A.L. Allen, Jr. That leak occurred when a school system employee incorrectly tried to turn on a valve, and damaged it.

As a result of that incident, the tanks, which belong to the school system, were examined. Blossman Gas recommended that the tanks be updated as a precaution, due to the fact that, because of their age, one of the tank's bonnet valves will not shut off.

"This condition may also occasionally cause what is commonly referred to as a 'bubble leak'. This type leak does not release enough gas to cause combustion, and does not present a danger to anyone. The tanks are safe and in compliance with all safety codes," said Allen.

Port/Harbor Commission okays Cure marina lease

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Port and Harbor Commission unanimously voted Monday to give Mike Cure a one-year lease on Bayou Caddy Marina.

Cure said his family has an agreement with Bayou Caddy Casino for the building his seafood business now occupies, and the casino developers have now asked him to vacate as soon as possible. He asked to be allowed to move into Bayou Caddy Marina on a temporary basis, and said he would take any kind of agreement the commission wanted to give.

Commissioner Pete Beebe moved that the commission approve a proposal Cure had submitted some time ago in response to a commission advertisement for the marina.

At the time the original proposal was submitted, another bidder gave a proposal that the commission felt was nonresponsive to the advertisement's specifications. According to commission president David McDonald, the commission was willing to accept Cure's proposal then, but McDonald said supervisor board attorney Gerald Gex asked that the commission wait for an attorney general's opinion on the matter.

McDonald said that the opinion, which came some six months after it was requested, left it to the commission to judge whether a proposal is

Waveland structure fire

The Waveland Fire Department extinguished a structure fire on Toronto Street in 15 minutes Tuesday. Fire chief David Garcia and assistant chief Steve Garber were returning from a fire investigation at 11:30 a.m. when they saw smoke coming from the vacant residence. "By the time we got to the house, it was totally involved," said Garber. The home was owned by the late Gus Rudolph. (Photo by T. H. "Doc" Troups)

Bay schools transportation director to retire in January

BY TRACI BONNEY

W.J. Cameron, transportation director for the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school district, is retiring after 34 years as a school district employee.

Cameron's retirement will become effective January 1, 1993. His retirement letter is dated November 4, and it came before the school board Monday night. The board accepted it.

He said he is retiring with mixed feelings, and considers the district his home away from home. Cameron offered his assistance to the district, should it be needed at any future time.

LIBRARY DONATION

Lana Noonan and Sheriff Ronnie Peterson appeared before the board to tell them about a donation the class of 1962 made to the Bay High School library.

Noonan said the donation is leftover funds from the class's

30-year reunion, and was made in the memories of deceased alumni Joanne McCullough Cuevas and Judy Taillac Watson.

Librarian Vicki Walsh said the money will be used to purchase five reference books on Native American culture, history and traditions. She stated that the books will be used by all the school's students, but especially by the seventh and 11th graders in the school's gifted program when they start their research papers.

Noonan and Peterson said they wanted to make the donation public to encourage other such donations to the school district.

CLASSES AND RANKS

The board passed, on a 3-2 vote with Linda Penrose and Willie Bradley dissenting, a set of recommendations that amended the classification of high school courses, how students are ranked and how they are eligible for honor roll.

Both Penrose and Bradley said they agree with the reclassification of courses from four levels into three, but neither felt the change should occur in the middle of the current school year.

The board had amended its policy at the last meeting, to make weighting of quality points for classes retroactive to the freshman year for upper-lassmen. The quality points were to be made retroactive on a four-level scale that allowed a maximum of seven quality points for an A in a Level 1 course (advanced placement and a few other classes).

The scale adopted Monday, which will go into effect December 9, has three classifications for courses and allows a maximum of six quality points for an

Bourgeois was at the school early Wednesday to coordinate efforts to resolve the problem. "We are not going to jeopardize any child's life or well-being," she said.

She explained she had called in the county fire marshal, state fire marshal's gas inspector and both the local and divisional managers of Blossman Gas, the company that services Hancock North Central's gas system.

Waveland Blossman manager John Rosetti said after inspecting the system, he was convinced there is no problem. "I know that there was no gas leak last night. I believe that what the parents smelled was a discharge from the sewerage plant," he said, referring to a treatment plant adjacent to the school. He explained that sewerage produces methane gas.

Sonny Bangs, the L.P. gas inspector of the State Fire Marshall's office agreed with Rosetti's assessment. "There are no leaks - the school is safe," he claimed, and said he had thoroughly inspected the school's gas system.

Bourgeois said as a result of parent's concerns, she was moving up scheduled gas system upgrades. The upgrades, which had been previously approved and planned for later in the year, will now begin this weekend. They include removing the school's existing below-ground gas system and replacing it with a more up-to-date above-ground system.

One parent manning the protest lines at the school entrance was not satisfied with the official's explanations. "Don't tell me we can't tell the difference between sewage and gas," she said.

A in a Level 1 class. The three-level scale is similar to the one used last school year.

The adopted recommendations - the new scale, using unweighted grades for honor roll eligibility, and using weighted grades to determine National Honor Society eligibility and valedictorian, salutatorian and honor graduates - were made by a committee set up by Superintendent Paul Tisdale and consisting of four students, four parents, three educators and board member

James Wilcox.

Wilcox said the students made many of the recommendations, including the honor roll eligibility and the three-level course classification.

Another item that was adopted from the committee's recommendations was that a numerical average be used to determine class rank starting in the 1995-96 school year. The committee said they will meet again in the future to determine weighting factors on such a scale.

Bay ACT scores drop

Dean: Students' classes affect individual, district test averages

BY TRACI BONNEY

On the face of it, the recently released American College Test averages for the Bay St. Louis school district don't look too good when compared to other districts, the state or the nation.

But that is only a surface evaluation that does not take a number of factors into account, according to Bay High guidance counselor Gloria Dean.

The ACT is one of several tests used by colleges and universities in determining a student's eligibility to enroll. It may be used alone or in conjunction with other tests such as the SAT.

The Bay St. Louis ACT average composite score for the 1991-92 school year was 18.0, which is lower than the 18.8 state average and the 20.6 national average.

It is also lower than the 1990-91 average of 18.1 for the district.

However, Dean said that not all the students taking the ACT are in college preparatory classes.

"Students may take the ACT whether they are prepared or not," she commented. "Students who take the college core courses, the ones that are on the test, score higher."

In addition, the number of students taking the test affects the average. Last year, 63 of the 95 graduating seniors took the test; the year before, 70 of more than 100 took it.

When asked what the district is doing to improve the average, Dean said, "We are trying to increase the number of students taking the core courses. The more of those courses the students take, the better prepared they will be."

Superintendent Paul Tisdale added that the district is working to increase parents' involvement in their children's education, not only to boost the ACT scores, but to benefit the students in their overall performance.

"If parents aren't making an appointment with a counselor by the time the student is in 10th grade, and getting an idea of what their child is going to take during high school, it's going to adversely affect the student," he stated.

participate. She said the program will be similar to those offered at other area schools, and that the menus will be lower in fat, sugar and caffeine than they have been in past attempted programs.

Scaffidi said the revenues above those to operate the program will go back into the program to fund future growth.

The schools plan to start the program November 30, she added.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved the October 5, 14 and 21 meetings; set student hearings for November 16, 4:30 p.m.; and approved an emergency pulper repair at Hancock High School, the employment of Maria Smith as coordinating assistant for the Chapter I program, reclassification of a mechanic, the acceptance of a low bid to purchase eight computers and related equipment for the HHS computer class, the October activity claims dockets for all schools, the enrollment of an out-of-district tuition student, and a field trip to New Orleans.

chants and a 24-page insert.

This year is expected to be about the same size as last year, but will cover a broader area of the county, bringing the Kiln Community into the celebration.

Vernon stated this is one of the Chamber's largest projects each year. "The holiday season is extremely important to businesses, particularly retailers."

"The local economy depends heavily on citizens making as many purchases as possible at home not only at Christmas, but throughout the year as well," said Vernon.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The Tigers of Bay High now move into the playoff picture after one of their best regular seasons in many a year.

I am hoping the Tigers will be fired up after last week's fall to the Long Beach Bearcats in a non-conference game.

A 8-2 season for Bay High is remarkable when there were recent years when the Tigers had a good season with a 5-5 record.

I am sure head coach Rocky Gaudin will have Bay High ready for Raleigh, which is some three hours or more from Bay St. Louis.

Raleigh is a bit southeast of Jackson on State Highways 18 and 35.

This year Bay High earned the right to be in the District VIII Class 3A playoffs.

I understand there will be bus loads of Tiger students going to the game and also a lot of Bay High Booster Club members, so they should have some good support in the stands.

I am wishing the best for the Tigers, as I know their coaches and players have all worked very hard for the position they are in this season.

Hats off to everyone involved with the football program at Bay High and the best of luck Friday night.

There are times when we as Americans discard services only to return to them in later years.

Two prime examples are railroad travel and bus services.

As a youngster growing up in Hancock County, rail passenger service and bus service played vital roles in our lifestyles.

Plans are underway for Amtrak to start passenger service from Miami to Los Angeles with the City of Bay St. Louis having a stop at the old depot.

It seems no one knows just where the train will stop in Harrison County, as Biloxi and Gulfport both want the service.

The City of Bay St. Louis has made a down payment to the CSX Railroad company for the Louisville and Nashville old depot and plans are underway to renovate the building and grounds.

When rail passenger service stopped in the area in the 1950's everyone thought it was past history for the area.

During the New Orleans World's Fair railroad passenger service was available, but for a limited time.

Now Bay St. Louis is going to have trolley bus service, too.

I remember the bus service for Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Clermont Harbor, as it was the only means of travel, other than walking, for many folks during the 1940's and 1950's in this area.

The bus schedules were based around the picture show schedules, as it was the way to get there, especially from Waveland and Clermont Harbor.

Many families depended on the bus service, which was an independent operation, to do their grocery shopping, too.

It will be good to see passenger service and trolley bus service available in Bay St. Louis.

CONSUMER TIPS

The old saying "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," couldn't be more appropriate for consumers. It is much easier to educate and protect yourself from fraud than to try to repair the damage after it's done.

Consumers should always be wary of opportunities that sound too good to be true. Consumers across the country have learned the hard way that opportunities that sound too good to be true are often just that. So save yourself time and money by doing a thorough check before making purchases. Become an aware consumer and always:

1. Avoid being pressured into buying a higher priced item than you intended to buy.
2. Investigate carefully offers made to you as a contest "winner" because such offers are usually a gimmick to persuade you to buy expensive products or services.

3. Avoid salespeople who ask you to refer them to your friends at a savings to you.
4. Investigate magazine sales since you may save little or lose a lot on subscription rates.

5. Don't believe you are making a good investment on an expensive product just because the salesperson says you are.
6. No offer is "once in a lifetime." If it is a genuine offer, it will be available again.

7. "You're a winner" usually means you might win but you have to pay a fee first.
8. If a peddler and solicitor can't produce a permit, pass up the goods.

9. Do not give credit card information to solicitors or contest personnel over the telephone.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Name change a sad one for Waveland's wastewater district

Dear Editor,

I suppose it had to happen someday, but I was hoping it wouldn't. Waveland Mayor Stella Frielot requested that the name of the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District be changed to "Southern" instead of "Waveland". The reason given was that the city gets some of WRWMD's phone calls. (WRWMD gets calls for Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Hancock County Wastewater District #1 and courteously refers them to the proper number and department.)

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County representatives on the board were glad to vote for the name change. That part is understandable.

It has been a source of pride for our city for many years that the district was named for us in the legislation, House Bill 1184 in 1980. It was written by the mayor and board for our protection.

Originally the entire Coast was designated to be under one wastewater authority, which was at the time located in Jackson County. The then mayor and board and others fought long and hard for us to keep our identity and control our own costs. It is a long story and was a difficult fight. (Many others will remember.) I personally remember the verbal threat from someone in Jackson that they were going to send the National Guard to arrest the mayor. After almost three years, we were finally allowed to be on our own, receive EPA participating funds and start on the county and cities' building program under the name of Waveland Regional.

Trivial? Maybe. But I can't help feeling sad for our city.

Individual treatment tanks would help disposal problem

To the Editor:

This is to inform all Hancock County citizens who are unaware, or have no knowledge of the impact of the 1992 Wastewater Disposal Law.

This law might sound good to those who have not financially invested in some 50,000 plus lots in Hancock County not serviced by sewer lines. This law however, renders these lots useless for residential purposes, and everyone will therefore be affected by the tax base being severely reduced.

Please be aware of the magnitude of this problem. It is not as simple as immediately installing sewer lines. Think about several hundred miles of sewer lines, many lift stations and several new sewage treatment plants. How about hundreds of millions in costs, and maybe 50 years to complete?

These figures are admittedly vague and are intended only to get attention and inquiry to determine more accurate estimates.

Initially, we need to think in overall generalities to determine feasibility. Long term and more precise studies can be pursued later. We need immediate relief.

An amendment will be submitted by Rep. J.P. Compretta to allow individual sewage treatment tanks. The effluent from these systems, if installed and serviced properly, is around 99% pure and should be allowed to seep into ditches and canals.

The law now mandates that the effluent must be contained on lots, which is literally impossible. Actually, these systems should even be allowed on lots which do not percolate well, and could be allowed as close as 50 feet from wells. Otherwise, their use would be eliminated for the majority of lots.

Proper function of these systems could be assured by requiring approved installers and service contracts.

Please express your concerns and ideas with your supervisors, legislators, and the Health Department.

Consider voting gambling out

To the Editor:

The casino owners paint a rosy picture. "Let me come in," they say "and we will help you with money for your schools, money for your roads, jobs, etc." I've heard that story before. It was about a spider and a fly. You can put a tuxedo on a crook and he can quote all kinds of good things, but he is still a crook, and will steal you blind, pick your pockets, and leave you bleeding because he could care less.

The people voted gambling in and they can vote it out. Think about it, you good people of Mississippi.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Two of state's top young brains seek employment elsewhere

Back in the spring of 1986, I became fascinated by the story of two exceedingly bright young men, both from Jackson County, who were graduating from high school that year but leaving the state to pursue their higher education elsewhere.

Both—Ron Krotoszynski of Moss Point and John Ates of Pascagoula—said they really liked Mississippi and wanted to come back to the state someday and get into politics.

But they were convinced (that was the year of deep cuts in funding) that Mississippi's commitment to quality higher education in the Legislature as well as the state administration was dreadfully inadequate.

The two had represented Mississippi that year among the 100 outstanding high school seniors nationally selected to take part in the Century III Leaders conference in Williamsburg, Va. In political philosophy, Ron and John were opposites. Ron was a New Deal Democrat, John a Reagan Republican.

Once again, Mississippi would be exporting some of its best brains because it couldn't compete in the academic big leagues.

Ron already had in hand a $4,700 academic scholarship to Emory University, one of the most prestigious institutions in the South. John was eyeing Vanderbilt, Harvard, or Washington and Lee, all of which wanted him.

On the strength of the story I wrote, Ole Miss made young Ates an offer he couldn't refuse to come to Oxford—a $30,000 scholarship, the best to be found in Mississippi. So he wound up in the fall of 1986 at Ole Miss.

Young Krotoszynski went on to Emory that same fall. Because he had picked up some college credits (at University South Alabama) while still a senior Moss Point High, by December, 1987 he had a bachelor's degree in political science and philosophy AND a master's degree in philosophy at Emory.

On top of that, he graduated Phi Beta Kappa, and made Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society.

Next for Krotoszynski, it was Duke University Law School and more honors, including the Order of the Coif, the law school equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa, and a doctorate of law degree by May, 1991.

In between, he did some summer law internship in Washington, D. C. and with then-U.S. Rep. Wayne Dowdy. After finishing law school, Krotoszynski became law clerk for highly-regarded federal Appeals Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. in Montgomery, Ala., winding up that assignment in September.

Now, at age 24 and unmarried, Ron is back home reviewing his options, on whether or not to return to Mississippi. His decision, at least in the short-term, is that he will not. Later this month he will join a prestigious Washington D.C. law firm at a salary beyond any he could get in Mississippi.

"But I'm keeping one eye on Mississippi," Krotoszynski told me on a visit last week, "I'm doing everything I can to make returning to Mississippi the right choice."

He finds the prospects for progressive change in Mississippi now very bleak in light of the Fordice Administration. At least until the 1995 state elections, he said, "Mississippi seems to be on auto pilot."

I wanted to find out what John Ates has done since I last looked in on him in 1986. He, as could be expected, excelled at Ole Miss, becoming Student Body president and winning a Truman scholarship (worth $7000 a year) for academics.

When I tracked him down the other day, I found Ates at Vanderbilt University law school, where he has been since he graduated in 1990 from Ole Miss. Next May he will receive his law degree, and he also will join a prestigious Washington D. C. law firm.

There has been a remarkable change in his political philosophy, Ates told me. "I've pretty much done an about face from what I was back in 1986," he said. No longer does he accept the Reagan conservative doctrine.

In fact, he told me, he had already cast his absentee ballot, and his vote went to Bill Clinton. (Significantly, Ron Krotoszynski was a volunteer worker for Clinton during his vacation at home in Moss Point.)

Like Ron, John Ates feels certain that he'll end up back in Mississippi, possibly to get a degree in philosophy and teach. "But politics is still in the picture," he said, and the Legislature may be where he will start.

Of course, Ron's first love after the law is politics. Maybe, just maybe, we will be seeing a lot of these two brilliant chaps one day.

Walk benefits Crisis Pregnancy Cen. Nov. 14

A two-mile walk will raise funds for the Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center on Saturday, November 14.

The third annual event will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. at Bay St. Louis City Hall.

Short talks by the leaders of the center, including Dr. M. L. Dodson, will follow registration. The walk will begin at 10.

Free T-shirts are given to those with pledges totaling $50 or more.

The CPC has served approximately 200 clients over the last three years. Some 75 were seen in the past year alone.

The center offers free pregnancy tests, counseling to women, and serves as a referral agency for adoptions, medical care, social services, legal aid and more.

Maternity clothing and baby clothes are offered to needy clients. Free literature is also available.

The non-profit organization is supported by local churches and individuals.

For additional information, call 467-3444 or 452-9598.

Mt. Zion celebrates pastor's anniversary

The Greater Mt. Zion AME Church, Pearlinton, invites the public to celebrate the Rev. Frederick L. Fields' first year anniversary on Sunday, November 15, 1992 at 3 p.m.

The public is also invited to attend a "Fall Revival", Wednesday, November 18 through Friday, November 20, 7:30 p.m. nightly.

The speaker for both the pastor's anniversary and revival will be the Rev. Bruce Davis Sr., pastor of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Gulfport.

Bird identification workshops scheduled

A few places remain available for the three bird identification workshops of classroom sessions and field trips for birders and would-be birders. Judith Toups, popular birding columnist for the Sun-Herald, an author, and field ornithologist with the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science, is offering the sessions to benefit the Mississippi Coast

Audubon Society.

Gulls and Terns will be the topic on November 12 followed by a field trip November 14. December 3rd's topic is ducks; January 14 will be sparrows.

The fee for each workshop is $30. A 50% non-refundable fee is due with registration, with the balance due at each class.

The evening workshops will be held at Casey Hall, Seashore Methodist Assembly, Hwy 90, Biloxi from 7-9 p.m. Time and location of each field trip will be announced at session.

For further information or to register, call Janet Miller 495-4029, or mail Janet the registration form at 2804 Dubarry Rd. Apt. 1207, Gautier, Ms. 39553. Make checks payable to Mississippi Coast Audubon Society.

responsive to a bid advertisement.

After the discussion on the matter, the commission voted 6-0 to accept Cure's original proposal for a one-year lease at $6,300 a year. The commission also authorized the proper officers to sign the lease agreement with Cure upon the board of supervisor's acceptance of the proposal.

OTHER BUSINESS

The commission approved a number of dockets, including general operating, railroad operating, industrial park revenues, railroad car wash, FAA high priority claims, port and harbor construction, rail car storage track construction, coal unloading facility claims, rental facility, terminal claims and t-hangar facility revenues.

The commission also awarded bids for railroad cross ties and rails, and grass cutting at Port Bienville; and approved application to the Port Revitalization Loan Fund for up to $250,000 for capital improvements and construction work at Port Bienville.

Engineer Carlos Cordon showed and explained to the commission the master plan (long-range plan) for development of the Port Bienville ship terminal, and told the commissioners that the industrial park's wastewater treatment plant and railroad car storage track are substantially complete.

Cordon also asked for and received a renewal on his general services contract with the commission. He said the contract had recently expired and needed to be renewed.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

LUCK BE A LADY

Last Friday 63 ladies, some spouses and friends from the Diamondhead Newcomers Club converged on Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis for some fun, food and games (gambling). On the same day, some of the faithful members of the Diamondhead Canasta Club were seen having lunch aboard the lovely Aegean Princess....Good!

The Diamondhead Rotary Club's first $2,500 Countdown fund-raiser to benefit the Diamondhead Fire Department (which will receive $3,000) was a huge success!

On Saturday the 7th, 100 tickets were sold, and some 80 folks were in attendance at the Diamondhead Days Inn for this special event.

There were five happy winners of $500 each. The local merchants should be commended for donating 35 lovely prizes which were awarded throughout the evening. Their hard work paid off in a job well done, chaired by Alecia Gardner of Hancock Bank and Sandi Wahl.

NEED DONATIONS

With a clever and catchy name like "Thrifty, Threads and Things," Diamondhead Academy's new thrift store in the Diamondhead Plaza has to be a winner!

Ms. Vivian Kelly, a kindergarten teacher's assistant at the school, will be volunteering her time on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until noon to man the shop.

The name pretty much identifies the items they need to help the school.

KING AND QUEEN

On Friday the 13th at the Diamondhead Community Center the suspense will be over for the members of the Krewe of Diamondhead. Their royal majesties for Mardi Gras '93 will be announced at the country/western theme party featuring "barbecue, booze and beer," not necessarily in that order.

SHADES OF 'GWTW'

There will be Rhett and Scarlett all over the dance floor as the Diamondhead Performing Arts Association presents its second Magnolia Ball.

Ticket sales have doubled from last year. Mrs. Louis (Neal) Hall and Mrs. Gerald (Delora) Diekema, co-chairmen, say the Country Club will be transformed as if by magic, into a beautiful Southern plantation garden, with magnolias blooming in profusion everywhere.

Can't you just smell that perfume, and taste those min-juleps as you relax on the veranda?

ANNOUNCEMENT

AARP Diamondhead Chapter is having a "55 ALIVE" class (mature driving course) at the community center Wednesday, Nov. 18, 1-5 p.m. and Thursday, Nov. 19, 9 a.m.-1 p.m.

Cost is $8. For more information call John Smart, 255-3803.

The 45 and more ladies of the St. Vincent de Paul Society outdid themselves recently with a fall fund-raiser at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garic Toca.

Jackie Toca, Society president, and her husband were gracious hosts of a marvelous event. The ladies of the Society prepared simply scrumptious appetizers, main courses, casseroles and mouth-watering desserts.

Approximately 150 tickets were sold. All proceeds benefit the needy of Hancock County.

A hub of activity is our health and fitness walking trail. During October, two physical therapists from the Rehab Center offered exercise guidelines for all walkers.

Daily and faithful walkers include Elva Gargoun, Esther Rivera, Beverly McDowell, Peggy McCullough, Coco Kennedy, Cookie Mittelbronn and others. All are grateful to Eddie Fernandez, whose determination saw this community project completed.

Plans are in the making for landscaping, a fountain, more benches, etc.

If you have an item of interest for this column, call 255-1317.

Theme Park concerns addressed Sunday

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Stephen Guice, president of Mississippi Motorsports Park, Inc., is hosting a meeting 2 p.m. Sunday at the Diamondhead Community Center, in response to concerns about the development of a proposed 10,000-acre theme park in central Hancock County.

Guice requested that interested residents of Diamondhead attend for a presentation of conceptual plans and a report on current status.

He added, ample time will be allowed for questions, which he will answer to the best of his ability.

"This is not a news conference. No new and startling information will be revealed," he said.

Mississippi Motorsports Park is presently pursuing state legislation for the creation of the DeLisle Improvement District. The proposed bill will permit the district to establish a municipal corporation, and later a municipality.

It is based on the Florida 1967 Reedy Creek District bill, used to establish the legal boundaries of today's Disney World. The 10,000-acre development is planned for Hancock County north of I-10 from Diamondhead to just west of Highway 603, with 3-3 1/2 miles of the area extending into the buffer zone. The overall development includes an additional 5,000 acres located in Harrison County.

Along with the creation of a theme park, a $60 million speedway, comparable to Florida's Daytona is proposed; a botanical garden; and an audio/visual studio and possible technical school are anticipated.

The board of supervisors are currently waiting on a recommendation from the county planning commission before determining whether to add their support to House Bill 1528.

Country Club and Property Owners Assn.

At a specially called general membership meeting Oct. 31, the Diamondhead Country Club and Property Owners Association announced the results of a special election to amend their by-laws to clarify the term "member in good standing."

The by-law change clarifies who is a member in good standing. Such a member is up-to-date on POA dues and is abiding by Diamondhead covenants. If a property owner is in violation of the covenants, he must have special permission from the POA.

The change also clarifies how a member can lose his good-standing status. The amendment also allows action to be taken by the Property Owners Association against those members deemed to be "not in good standing."

The by-law amendment passed overwhelmingly.

BHS playoffs begin Friday

BY RANDY PONDER
 Bay High will face Raleigh Friday night in the opening round of the state District 8, Class 3A football playoffs.

Both teams finished the regular season with identical 8-2 records. The similarities do not end there. Each squad possesses the ability to score a lot of points while holding their opponents to very few.

Raleigh averaged 28.5 points per contest, while giving up only 7.7. The Tigers averaged 24.8 and 8.1.

Dwayne Antoine led the Tigers in scoring with 44 points. Following were Xavier Lewis, 36; Marcel Whavers, 36; Larone Lewis, 32; Leroy Hawkins, 24 and Shawn Keener with 16 round out the Bay High scoring leaders.

Quarterback Sam Sheppard passed for 9 touchdowns. Whavers caught 6 of those tosses and Xavier Lewis pulled in the other 3.

"It's going to be a dog fight," Tiger assistant coach Joe Shaw stated. "I don't think we'll play two bad games in a row. Some teams make the playoffs and are satisfied just to be there. Our kids want to play four more weeks."

Shaw said the Raleigh Lions have an excellent quarterback who likes to run the ball. "He will fake and keep the football on the option. He runs well."

"They run a bunch of stuff on offense, but on defense they are very basic," Shaw added.

Team buses are expected to leave Bay St. Louis around 1 p.m. for the three-hour trip to Raleigh. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Junior high Hawks down St. Stanislaus

BY TRACI BONNEY
 Both squads of the Hancock Junior High football Hawks swooped over St. Stanislaus last week.

The 7/8 grade squad won 44-8 with touchdowns by Mike Fountain on a 38-yard run; Jimmy Jones, a 15-yard run and a 2-point conversion; Frank Venezia, a 15-yard run; Josh Davis, a 70-yard kickoff return; and Chad Peterson, 22- and 4-yard runs. Eugene Garcia contributed two conversions and Cory James added one.

The 8-1 team plays North Gulfport in the Mullet Bowl at Joe D. McCulloch Stadium. Kickoff is at 5:30 p.m.

The 9th grade Hawks also scored 44 points, to SSC's 16. Hancock touchdowns came through players James Berry (three TDs: 48-, 22- and 17-yard runs), Kent Mally (8-yard run), J.J. Hay (29-yard run and one

2-point conversion) and Tommy McArthur (8-yard run and a 2-point PAT). Sammy Murray and Roland Cuevas each contributed a 2-point conversion.

The 9th-grade squad closes its season at 6-4.

SSC jr. high track team wins 1st place

The St. Stanislaus junior high cross country team placed first in the District 7 and 8A meet held Saturday at Harrison Central High School.

Individual finishes (two mile) were Kippy Chamberlain, (3) 11:56; Michael Mancuso, (4) 11:59; Matt Dillenkoffer, (5) 12:01; Jeremy Goulet, (6) 12:07; Leo Laurent, (16) 12:47. The SSC team took first place with 34 points, followed by Ocean Springs, Resurrection and Long Beach.

Junior varsity team individual statistics were Judd Deaton, (3) 11:49; Carlos Gonzales, (6) 11:55; and Roberto Jimenez, (7) 12:05. The varsity team placed second overall in competition among all 4A schools in a three-mile event.

Individual finishes were Scott Black, (2) 17:00; Gilly Chamberlain, (5) 17:17; Josh Perrello, (13) 17:59; Drew Scaffide, (14) 18:00; Eduardo Jimenez, (21) 18:18; Eugene Schmitt, (33) 19:03; and David Gianechini, (34) 19:37.

Pearl River on Saturday in the Mississippi College football game. The Wildcats, the nation's number one team, will play Saturday night at the Mississippi State University, while the ranked 13, final victory over the Wolves.

"It's a great moment," said Willie Coats, school's second 69-years of Coats admitted had been lucky son. "When you have to have your way," Coats said in a meeting staff on Saturday that one of the Wildcats, Indians meet in playoffs

Pearl River will host Itawamba Saturday in the first round of the Mississippi Community College football playoffs.

The Wildcats, number four in the nation, finished their regular season undefeated (10-0) Saturday with a 42-13 slapping of the Mississippi Delta Trojans, while the 8-2 Indians, ranked 13, finished with a 35-3 victory over the Copiah-Lincoln Wolves.

"It's a great accomplishment," said Pearl River coach Willie Coats after posting the school's second 10-0 season in 69 years of competition.

Coats admitted his Wildcats had been lucky during the season. "When you go undefeated you have to have some things go your way," Coats said.

In a meeting with his coaching staff on Sunday, Coats said that one of the "lucky games" came mid-season against the Itawamba Indians.

Itawamba picked up 429 yards, 24 first downs, and completed 19 of 30 passes but still lost to the Wildcats 25-22 in game five on Oct. 1. The 4-0 Indians were ranked seventh in the nation before the game began.

Itawamba, who led 7-3 at the half and 14-13 with 12 minutes left in the game, limited the Wildcats to just 53 yards total offense in the first half. The Indians threatened on several occasions but turned the ball over on three fumbles and one interception.

"They (the Indians) think our win over them was a fluke," said Coats. "I know they think they are better than us."

One thing Coats knows for sure is that the Indians are the best team the Wildcats played all year. "They are big, strong, and quick. They will come after us like no one has done all year."

Coats said there is no time to savor the 10-0 season. "In a time of war there is no time to reflect on winning the battles," said Coats. "We must recommit ourselves to the second part of the season."

"We must prove that our win over Itawamba was not an accident," said Coats. "We must practice hard this week and prepare. Believe me we are not taking the Indians lightly and we will not look past this week."

Number one Northwest is entertaining the Hinds Eagles, the second place team from the South, at Senatobia. The winner of that game and the PRC-Itawamba victor will play for the state crown next week.

Pearl River leads the state in rushing per game with 277 yards per game. The Wildcats are also averaging 30 points per game while allowing 13 points. The Wildcats are third in rushing defense, ninth in passing offense and ninth in passing defense.

Pearl River, who leads the state with 14 overall state crowns, last made the playoffs in 1981.

PRC was 8-2 in 1990 and 6-4 last year.

Lakeshore Booster Club sets basketball registration

Lakeshore Booster Club will hold basketball registration November 9, 11, 13 and 16 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at the Gulfview Elementary School gym. Registration fee is $12 per person. There are no residential boundaries; all children who want to participate are welcome. For more information, call Debbie Pucheu at 467-1542.

Cowboys move to No. 1

Special to the Echo
Heading into the final game against Hancock, the Bay American Legion Cowboys advance to No. 1 in their league.

Coach Jay Cuevas said the Bay 11-and-12-year-olds' 6-1 record is a proud moment for him, since he has coached most of the players for four years.

The Cowboys continued to dominate play on both sides of the ball as they defeated the Pearl River Blue Devils 30-0 October 31.

On their first possession of the game against PRC, the Cowboys scored a touchdown via Tony Benton and the blocking of Demetri Shornick. Benton caught a pass from Jamie Cuevas to score the extra point.

Stephen Peterman's on-side kick was successful as Jason McKay recovered the ball on the 45-yard line, putting the Cowboys in good field position. The offense wasted no time putting more points on the board.

Excellent blocking by Earl Payard and Jace Bourgeois aided Benton in making his second TD. Ronald Brown ran in the ball for the PAT.

Coach Fred Peterman said the defense played tough and did not give up many points.

The Blue Devils were not successful on their next drive as the defense put pressure on the quarterback. Brandon Everett, Stephen Peterman and Brown each sacked the opposing QB.

The Blue Devils punted on the fourth down, and Benton took the ball at the 30-yard line. Key blocks by Steven Knight and Nick Foret gave Benton an open field for a 70-yard run back for another TD. The PAT attempt failed.

Excellent tackling by Chris Rae, Greg Fucich, Stoney Dossett and Patrick Martinez kept the Blue Devils in the hole, and Paul Favre and Justin Wadsworth continued to show great running and ball-handling abilities on the next drive.

However, the Blue Devils held and took possession on their 35-yard line.

The Cowboys' defense wasn't ready to give an inch, though, and Brandon Everett broke through the line to intercept the ball and run it back for a score. Cuevas tossed another pass to Benton for the 2-point PAT to end the first half.

Brown moved to quarterback in the second half, and Jason McKay, Steven Knight and Blake Werner showed their running and ball-handling capabilities.

The Blue Devils were unable to score as the Cowboys' defense hung tough. Foret broke through the line for a safety, and the game ended with the Cowboys in possession.

The Cowboys traveled to Biloxi for an all-star game Saturday. Results were not available at press time.

PRC playoff game to start hour earlier

Saturday's first-round playoff game between the Pearl River College Wildcats and the Itawamba Indians will start an hour earlier than regular season games.

Kickoff is scheduled for 6 p.m. in Dobie Holden Stadium on the PRC campus in Poplarville.

Game time was moved up to better accommodate the fans and press coverage, said PRC public relations director Larry Stanford.

The 9th-grade squad closes its season at 6-4.

Faith Assembly of God hosts Gemme family

Pastor E. L. Stewart and the congregation of Faith Assembly of God invite the public to attend a day of special services to be held at the Church, Highway 603 and 43 in Kln, on Sunday, November 15 at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Special guests will be the Gemme Evangelistic team from Longmont, Colorado. The team consists of Ray Gemme, his wife Carmel, and their three children: Stephany, R.J., and Jacqueline. Ray was called into the ministry at age 20, and he has been involved in ministry as both an evangelist and pastor for 16 years.

While pastoring in California he completed his education at Pacific Coast Bible College in Sacramento.

The Gemmes live in a 35-foot travel trailer and journey throughout the country in full-time ministry. Ray will offer a message from the Bible, and the team will be ministering in music during each service.

PRESENTED BY MAIN EVENTS MONITOR AND SPECIAL PROMOTIONS IN ASSOCIATION WITH THE BELL SYSTEM

Benefit set Sunday for Shelly Ladner

A benefit turkey shooting match, dinner and prize bingo will be held Sunday, Nov. 15, for cancer victim Shelly Ladner.

The benefit will be at American Legion Post No. 58, Highway 603, Standard Community, with food served beginning at 11 a.m. Bingo starts at 1 p.m., and shooting match at 6 p.m.

Ms. Ladner, granddaughter of Hollis and Estelle Ladner, recently had a bone marrow transplant and is a student at Hancock High.

Sponsoring the benefit are Hollis Ladner, 255-7589; Shirley Shipman, 255-1283; and Elaine Garner, 255-6124.

Shipman said, "We are in desperate need of prizes for the bingo games. Food has already been donated for the benefit dinner, and we appreciate the help from all. Please give one of us a call and we will be happy to pick up prizes or donations for this important benefit."

Chicken gumbo, potato salad, chicken & sausage jambalaya, hamburgers, hot dogs, soft drinks and sweets will be available.

Anyone wanting to make a contribution for the medical expenses, can mail it to the Shelly Ladner Fund, Hancock Bank, Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis, account # 03-7043112.

The benefit is open to persons of all ages.

College Football Highlights

For November 14

When two powerful, closely matched teams meet, we usually throw a couple of points to the home team, but the recent history of three of this week's top games makes us wonder how good an idea that is.

The first is Penn State at Notre Dame. The Nittany Lions have come away the winners the past two years, at home last season (35-13) and in South Bend in 1990. Notre Dame won in '89 and '88, once at home and once in State College. So this year we don't care much that Notre Dame is at home. We're picking the Irish in a close one because they have one of the most productive offenses in the country, and because those losses the past two years should give them a motivational edge.

Among the powers of the Pacific 10, the home-field advantage seems equally overrated. Arizona and Southern Cal have each won two of their last four games, but the winner in three of those four was the visitor. Arizona finally managed a home win last year, 31-14. This game shapes up as a battle of two strong defenses, and USC has a slight edge—but not necessarily because the Trojans are at home.

Two more of the PAC 10, Washington State and Stanford, have performed almost identically against each other, the Cardinal winning in Pullman last year, 49-145, winning in Palo Alto in 1990, losing on the road in '89 and losing at home in '88. Stanford will win not because it's back in Palo Alto, but because it has one of the top five defenses in the country.

You've probably noticed that we just happened to have picked three home teams. Well, we don't have to go out on a limb to favor the visitor in another big game, among the leaders of the West division of the Southeast Conference. At home or away, no matter where they play, Alabama always beats Mississippi State, and the Crimson Tide will do so again this year.

Our forecasting accuracy continues to improve. Through Halloween weekend we'd picked 1,293 right and 412 wrong, for an average of .758.

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Nov. 15-16

Atlanta, 22—Phoenix, 20

The Falcons, a different team since finishing 10-6 last year, have lost four straight to the Cardinals dating back to 1986. Phoenix is right where it was last year, but it's Atlanta's turn.

Chicago, 26—Tampa Bay, 12

In their first matchup a month ago, Jim Harbaugh threw for 304 yards and the Bears won 31-14. The Bucs are down, if not out in the NFC Central, while Chicago needs to keep up with Minnesota.

Dallas, 30—L.A. Rams, 21

There's no closer rivalry in the NFL than the Cowboys and Rams. Each has won eight of their 16 regular-season games and four of their eight playoff games. Dallas will go up by one.

Denver, 24—N.Y. Giants, 23

The Broncos and Giants haven't butted heads since 1989, and Denver hasn't won since 1980. New York has been wildly inconsistent, and that won't work against the Broncos at Mile High.

Indianapolis, 20—New England, 16

After last week's battle with Miami, this is the game in which the Colts can't afford to ease up if they have playoff hopes—against just the kind of team that invites easing up.

L.A. Raiders, 27—Seattle, 14

Though no one was confusing their spotty offense with the Raiders of old, L.A. had no trouble with the Seahawks four weeks ago, winning 19-0. Seattle shows no signs of making this one closer.

Minnesota, 28—Houston, 27

The interconference game of the week, between teams that have met only five times in 18 years; the Vikings lead 3-2. Both have productive offenses and solid defenses. We could go either way.

N. Y. Jets, 23—Cincinnati, 17

Seasons like these two teams are having make for great, nothing-to-lose games—like the Jets' stunning defeat of Miami two weeks ago. Cincinnati has won two straight from New York.

Philadelphia, 33—Green Bay, 16

Last year the Eagles beat the Packers easily, 20-3, and once again the teams are headed in opposite directions. G.B. scores points with great difficulty, and Philly gives them up reluctantly.

Pittsburgh, 24—Detroit, 10

The Steelers beat the Lions 23-3 the last time they met, in 1989. Pittsburgh will bounce back after hard games with Houston and Buffalo, but Detroit doesn't need another toughie after Dallas.

San Diego, 26—Cleveland, 22

It's not that this game's too close to call, it's just that it makes us nervous: Three of this pair's last six games have gone into overtime, including Cleveland's 30-24 win last year.

San Francisco, 31—New Orleans, 29

In September the 49ers forced five turnovers and held off the Saints 16-10. San Francisco has more revenge in store for the team that took its NFC West title away last season.

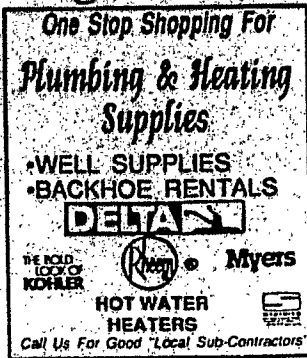

Washington, 28—Kansas City, 23

It's been nine years since the Redskins have met the Chiefs. We'd be more excited if K.C. hadn't detonated against Pittsburgh three weeks ago and the 'Skins hadn't done likewise against N.Y.

Miami, 34—Buffalo, 31

(Monday) The Bills are still smarting from a 37-10 trouncing by the Dolphins six weeks ago. Since then both teams have had their problems, but Miami has another '91 Buffalo victory to pay back.

Auxiliary donates

Pink Ladies' volunteer hours noted at luncheon

Hancock Medical Center Auxiliary members were recognized for their accumulated hours of volunteer service at the hospital.

They include:
—100 hours: Violet Brauner, Harriet Reightler, Nell Seghers, Sina West and Earlene Wollam;
—300 hours: Beulah Benigno;
—500 hours: Tootsie Bookhardt, Marion Rapp, Alice Winchester and Dot Zimmerman;

—700 hours: Shirley Clements, Bea Lorenzen, Beverly Mahe and Evelyn Perre';

—1,000 hours: Dorothy Bielstein;
—1,250 hours: Dorothy Corales, Ursula Favre, Betty Kilty and Billie Tudury;
—1,500 hours: Edna Kleinpeter
—1,750 hours: Phil Lagasse
—2,000 hours: Theresa Bourgois

From November 1, 1986 to October 31, 1992, the Pink Ladies have donated 32,800 hours of volunteer service at Hancock Medical Center. Hours in 1992 totalled 5,774. The auxiliary has 44 active members and 18 associate members.

Hancock Medical auxiliary volunteers recognized

By T. H. "Doc" Toups
Hancock Medical Center's Ladies Auxiliary volunteers, better known as the "Pink Ladies," held their annual awards luncheon Thursday at the Waveland Resort Inn.

The group's motto, "Nisi Dominus Frustra," is Latin for "Without God, we can do nothing." Thousands of hours of volunteer work are provided by the Pink Ladies.

Group business included the awarding of service pins for women who had contributed certain amounts of volunteer hours and the issuing of new uniform patches. The group's old Chevron-style stripes which denoted qualifications, are being replaced by color-coded patches.

The auxiliary had pledged $7,500 to the hospital's building fund in three installments of $2,500. The second of these installments was presented to hospital administrator Don Henderson and HMC board of trustees president, the Reverend Charles Johnson.

Henderson expressed his gratitude and said, in part, "I think our image is improving in the community, and I believe that has a lot to do with the caring that the Pink Ladies provide."

The luncheon served as the venue for the installation of new officers, both appointed and elected. Elected officers include Dorothy Corales, treasurer; Phil Lagasse, vice-president; Theresa Bourgois, president; and Dorothy Bielstein, secretary.

Appointed officers are Betty Kilty, activities chairman; Edna Kleinpeter, Sunshine Lady, and Dot Zimmerman, assistant to the secretary.

Preparing for job market

Hancock students tour Bay Tech

By T.H. "Doc" Toups
A federally-funded education program is helping Hancock High seniors prepare for real-world jobs with real-world experience. Jobs for American Graduates (JAG) is a school-to-work jobs transition program, according to job counselor Larry Smith.

Smith explains his classroom work includes instruction on the preparation of resumes, appropriate dress, completing job applications, job interview conduct and other subjects designed to help the high school graduate successfully compete in today's tight employment market.

On Friday, Smith's Hancock High seniors toured the Bay Tech electronics complex, on Second Street in Bay St. Louis. The students saw the different departments involved in product planning and production and benefited from the advice of professionals actually working in fields which the students may decide to pursue.

Recently the JAG students toured the Waveland

Resort Inn and plans are underway for a trip to Casino Magic. Of the Casino Magic trip, Smith was careful to point out that his mission was to expose the students to all of the options open to them in their post-high school careers.

Currently, 10 schools in Mississippi are participating in the JAG program, though funding is scheduled to be expanded in the near future. Bay High will likely be incorporated into the program next year.

New singles group offers many activities

The Bay-Wave Singles, a new organization for single adults of the Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County area has now begun their activities.

Sponsored in part by the Main Street and Waveland United Methodist Churches, the purpose of the group is to provide regularly scheduled meetings and other activities where a single adult, in affiliation and coordination with other singles, can get support to develop spiritually, socially, emotionally, intellectually and physically.

Planned activities include a Sunday School class which begins this Sunday, November 15, at 9:30 a.m. in the education building at Main Street United Methodist Church, corner of Court Street and Second Street in Bay St. Louis.

Lesson material will begin with a study of the book The Road Less Traveled led by Helen Davis, French Brandon, and Austin Rester.

The non-denominational class is open to anyone who would like to participate. Signs at the front of the building will direct persons to the proper class room.

Another activity is a volleyball game scheduled each Wednesday evening. It will begin at 7 at the Bay St. Louis Police Station on Old Spanish Trail. Those interested may call Austin Rester for more information at 467-5438.

Other activities are already in progress such as a noon luncheon at a local restaurant each Sunday, tennis on Monday evenings and activities that are coordinated with other local singles groups.

There are no membership requirements. Interested persons may get on a mailing list that details all the activities by calling 467-5438 and leaving your name and address on the answering machine.

'Silk Treasures' show to benefit cystic fibrosis

The vibrant colors and luxurious feel of the hand-painted silks by Long Beach artist Susan Redue are ideal for many creative looks.

The yards and squares of signature silk will be available to view in Redue's debut trunk show, "Silk Treasures," a fashion show to benefit cystic fibrosis.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is creating and funding the research that will soon end the fight against the most common genetic killer of children and young adults. In the 1950's, children with CF rarely lived beyond age five. Today, thanks to improved care and treatment, more than half will live into their mid-twenties.

The show that Redue will present will be unusual—not only will the audience be able to see and feel the silks as the models walk around the floor—they will also learn how to tie the yards of silk into new and interesting fashions.

JoAn Wilson of JoAn's Fifth Street Salon in Long Beach will create the makeup and hairstyles, and the volunteer models will wear various tied and draped styles for the beach, for business and for evening.

The trunk show will give the audience a chance to purchase the silks for themselves or for presents, and a percentage of the sales will go to the Mississippi Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

"Silk Treasures" will be held as a High Tea on Dec. 6 from 2-4 p.m. at the Crystal Ballroom of the Royal d'Iberville Hotel in Biloxi with 350 tickets available for $25 ea. All proceeds will benefit the Mississippi Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

For more information call Sandra Norowski at 875-8899 or Linda Gain at 374-6547.

Crunchy Critter

Healthy eating emphasized in North Bay, Waveland programs

Critters come in all sizes and shapes and at North Bay and Waveland Elementary schools there is a new one, and he's Crunchy.

Crunchy Critter has arrived as part of the Crunchy's Choice nutrition education program in the cafeteria.

This new program is just another way schools in Mississippi are helping students learn and sugar only in moderation. Crunchy's Choice foods are reduced in fat, sugar, salt and high in iron. They include new foods and new versions of old favorites such as chili con carne with beans.

ram will last a month, but the school will continue serving the new recipes along with other nutritious foods after the promotion has ended.

During the program, children in kindergarten through third grade will participate in special nutrition activities featuring Crunchy Critter in their classrooms. Parents will receive a nutrition newsletter each week during the program.

Crunchy's Choice is designed to encourage lower elementary students to choose foods reduced in fat, sugar and salt and high in iron.

to make food choices that are consistent with the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

The dietary guidelines, established by the Office of the U.S. Surgeon General, recommends eating a variety of foods; choosing foods low in fat, saturated fat and cholesterol; eating plenty of vegetables, fruits and grain products; and using salt

Recipes for Crunchy's Choice foods have been computer analyzed for their nutrient content to ensure that they meet nutrition criteria.

Hancock TIP students

Eleven students have qualified to participate in this year's Talent Search for mathematically and verbally advanced students, sponsored by Duke University's Talented and Identification Program. To be eligible, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability measure. They will take the Scholastic Aptitude Test or ACT Assessment, normally taken by only college-bound juniors and seniors, in December, January or February. From left are Jaclyn R. Lodes, Travis Brignac, Rebecca McGill, Joy Gillan, Jonathan Caston, William Cuevas, Mary Ann Garriga, Timmy Daigle, Richie Ladner, Dana Sison and Suzanne Shook.

St. Clare contest winners

Three attend UM conference

St. Stanislaus students Mansel Bell, Ashton Feehan and Roberto Jimenez attended a leadership conference at the University of Mississippi November 12 and 13.

Bell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Jr. of Pass Christian, is president of the National Honor Society and co-captain of the varsity cheerleaders.

Feehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Feehan Jr. of Pass Christian, is vice-president of the Spanish Honor Society.

Jimenez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Teodoro Jimenez, is the president of the Student Council. He is a citizen of Costa Rica but resides in Cameroon on Africa's west coast.

Turkey shoot set Nov. 15

The Bay High Athletic Club will sponsor a turkey shoot and fish fry November 15 from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Commagere Park in Bay St. Louis.

Proceeds will help fund a new track for the high school.

Four earn USM master's degrees

Four local students at the University of Southern Mississippi have successfully defended their master's theses in marine science.

They are the first graduates of the USM marine science master's degree program.

Diane Arwood of Bay St. Louis wrote a thesis titled "The Influence of Environmental Variables on Partitioning of the End Products of Phytoplankton Photosynthesis in the Mississippi River Plume."

Daphne Filot of Pass Christian wrote a thesis titled "The Geochemistry of Gallium Relative to Aluminum in California Stream Waters." Filot is employed at Neptune Inc. in Slidell, La.

Carolyn Kennedy of Bay St. Louis wrote a thesis titled "A Method of Comparison of Marine Algal and Bacterial Production." Kennedy is employed at Sverdrup Technology Inc. at Stennis Space Center.

Leanne Mallini of Bay St. Louis wrote a thesis titled "Development of Kinetic-Colorimetric Flow Analysis Techniques for Determining Dissolved Manganese and Iron and an Assessment of the Behavior of Dissolved Manganese in the Far-Field Plume of the Mississippi River."

Bay High Pepsi Students

HHS installs library security system

A new security system to improve service for library patrons by preventing unauthorized removal of library materials has been installed in the Hancock High School Library.

Losses, which have been steadily mounting, now cost the library about $3,000 a year, according to Barbara White, librarian. Those losses are expected to be greatly reduced with the installation of the library security system. Library materials that have not been properly checked out will activate an electronic detector when carried through the detection equipment. An audible alarm sounds, alerting library staff.

"The great percentage of patrons are honest and would not intentionally take materials without checking them out," said White. "In most cases, it's just a matter of being forgetful."

"Unfortunately," White commented, "a great deal of materials removed by forgetful patrons seldom, if ever, finds its way back to the library."

"We know it's easy for a patron to inadvertently mix up library materials with personal belongings, particularly when he or she is involved in a major research project," said White.

"Fortunately, this system will detect material even when they're placed in briefcases, purses or backpacks."

White noted loss of materials is major expense for libraries everywhere, and losses are greatest among materials that are in heaviest demand—newer materials, classics and out-of-print books.

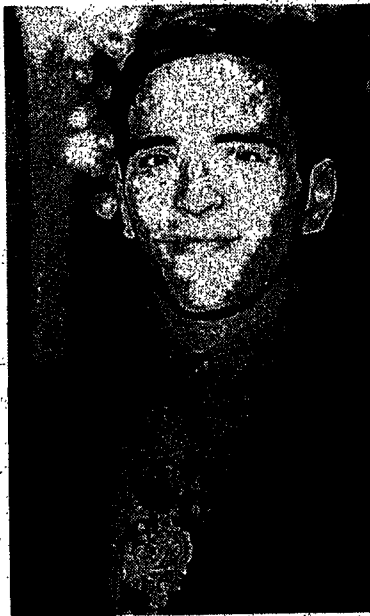

Bell nominated for leadership award

St. Stanislaus principal Dr. Michael Ryan announced Mansel Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Jr. of Pass Christian, as this year's nominee for the Principal's Leadership Award.

One senior who is an outstanding leader and is in the top 20% of his class may be nominated. The program, administered by the National Association of Student Councils and the National Honor Society, will provide 150 scholarships of $1,000 each for 1993.

Bell is president of the National Honor Society, vice-president of Mu Alpha Theta, co-captain of the varsity cheerleading squad, a four-year member of the Radio Club (three years as president), editor of the yearbook for the second year, and a two-year member of the math and science team.

Bell has maintained the president's honor roll since freshman year, and was named Pepsi Student of the Month, and Pepsi Student of the Year twice.

Education conference

Billy Bourgeois, Myrna Bourgeois, Hancock County School superintendent; Colonel Charles Bolden, NASA astronaut; and Hancock County District 2 board member Cheryl Bennett recently attended Mississippi's first statewide education conference, "The Hour of Educational Accountability" in Jackson. Colonel Bolden delivered a speech on "Space Technology in The Next Century."

Sy earns essay award

Bernard Sy, senior at St. Stanislaus, was the second place winner of the d'Iberville Assembly Knights of Columbus patriotic essay contest.

Sy received $250 on Oct. 12 at the Cathedral in Biloxi from Bishop Howze. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bertrand O. Sy of Bay St. Louis.
